For Ages 9 to 12

Olga and the Smelly Thing From Nowhere, by Elise Gravel (HarperCollins, $12.99) "Olga and the Smelly Thing From Nowhere is funny and weird, with some scatological humor to appeal to kids without being excessive. Gravel's art is amusing and expressive, and I like the fact that this is a book about a young girl who is obsessed with science!" —Anna Kaufman, DIESEL, A Bookstore, Santa Monica, CA

For Teen Readers

Piper Perish, by Kayla Cagan (Chronicle Books, $17.99) "In a diary-plus-art format, Piper takes us from an awful New Year's Eve during her senior year of high school until it's time to embark on a new adventure in August. This book is full of the ups and downs of friendships and relationships, the creative struggles of a young artist, and the unfortunate realities families face when trying to afford college. It's also inspiring at times, and each character's flaws are refreshingly clear as they all muddle their way through their own hangups. The best part is watching Piper evolve from a dramatic girl who wants to be Andy Warhol into someone who works toward a future that is entirely her own." —Danielle Borsch, Vroman's Bookstore, Pasadena, CA
