The Bird Saviors: A Novel, by William J. Cobb (Unbridled Books, $25.95) "Set in the not-so-distant future, The Bird Saviors takes place in a destitute southern Colorado town where the characters are as damaged as the environment. Although stark and cruel, Cobb's tale has enough scenes of dark humor and irony to keep the reader turning the pages. He also allows us to discover the amazing warmth that lies hidden beneath the grim exterior of some remarkable and memorable characters." —Joni Montover, Paragraphs on Padre Boulevard, South Padre Island, TX

A Lady Cyclist's Guide to Kashgar: A Novel, by Suzanne Joinson (Bloomsbury USA, $26) "Two worlds collide with the discovery of a mysterious inheritance. On one side of the globe in the 1920s, three young women embark on an adventure along the famous Silk Road. On the other side of the world in present day London, two young strangers bond over a beautiful illustration with a history. Decades of family tradition and mystery become unraveled as the stories come crashing together." —Morgan Kiedrowski, Next Chapter Bookshop, Mequon, WI
