Other Indie Favorites

The Boy in the Snow: An Edie Kiglatuk Mystery, by M.J. McGrath (Viking, $25.95) "Highly recommended for fans of Dana Stabenow's Kate Shugak series, this follow-up to McGrath's debut, White Heat, offers a view of the life of Inuits in Alaska. Half-Inuit Edie Kiglatuk is another strong heroine who has a troubled past but tries to do what she can to make things right. I look forward to learning more about what drives her in future books in this series." —Nancy McFarlane, Fiction Addiction, Greenville, SC

Heads in Beds: A Reckless Memoir of Hotels, Hustles, and So-Called Hospitality, by Jacob Tomsky (Doubleday, $26.95) "Here is the authentic voice of the Front Desk Agent: funny, experienced, profane, and able to tell a good story or two. Tomsky shares his story of beginning as a parking valet and rising to the heights of the front desk. This book is packed with characters, anecdotes, celebrities, and useful information for any hotel guest. Heads in Beds does for hotel workers what Anthony Bourdain's Kitchen Confidential did for restaurant workers. It should be an instant classic!" —Mary Muller, Market Block Books, Troy, NY
