The Pairing

By Casey McQuiston

"The Pairing is Casey McQuiston's masterwork. This was sensual, lush, and decadent in all the best ways. I fell in love with Theo and Kit, and I can't wait to reread it and experience the magic all over again."

—Amanda Olmstead, The Book Burrow, Pflugerville, TX

Your Next  Great Read

Hum: A Novel

By Helen Phillips

"Helen Phillips takes us on a wild, anxious ride into the (near?) future: an AI-driven world. Fast-paced and tense, Hum ponders the current state of technology and its effect on human behavior. A brilliant, futuristic page-turner!"

—Caroline Buchta, Andover Bookstore, Andover, MA

The Au Pair Affair: A Novel

By Tessa Bailey

"I am head over heels in love with Burgess and Tallulah! I mean, an overprotective hockey captain that falls first and falls hard, and nicknames her gorgeous? You can't go wrong. Tessa Bailey knows how to bring the swooning full force."

—Mandy Harris, Angel Wings Bookstore, Oxford, NC

Your Next  Great Read

The Dead Cat Tail Assassins

By P. Djèlí Clark

"When undead assassin Even is contracted to kill a person who appears to be her own younger self, forbidden magics and lethal shenanigans ensue. This is a delicious, funny, unexpectedly heartwarming story with just the right amount of viciousness."

—Milo Michels, University Book Store, Seattle, WA

Your Next  Great Read

The Bright Sword: A Novel of King Arthur

By Lev Grossman

"You know a book's good when it starts with a quote from Monty Python. I utterly loved it from the first page to the last. Witty, serious, magical, and with an amazing cast of characters, this is everything an Arthurian epic should be."

—Emily Pate, Word After Word Books, Truckee, CA

Your Next  Great Read

Slow Dance: A Novel

By Rainbow Rowell

"Shiloh and Cary quickly became two of my favorite characters ever. Rowell uses dual POV and a non-linear timeline to explore a stunning relationship between two utterly flawed, brilliantly eccentric best friends."

—Ebani Filbert, The Bookworm of Omaha, Omaha, NE

Your Next  Great Read

The Lost Boy of Santa Chionia: A Novel

By Juliet Grames

“Set in an isolated Italian village, this is so rich in detail, so deep in characterization, that it’s like eating dessert in a fine restaurant: savoring each bite, letting it linger on the palette. Easily one of my favorite books of the year so far!”

—Pete Mock, McIntyre’s Fine Books, Pittsboro, NC

Your Next  Great Read

Pearl: A Novel

By Siân Hughes

“A shatteringly beautiful story of a woman’s search for answers about her mother’s disappearance. Through shifting memories, the reader moves through Marianne’s trauma and changing understanding of her mother. This aches and amazes in equal measure.”

—Allyson Howard, Invitation Bookshop, Gig Harbor, WA

Your Next  Great Read

Lady Macbeth: A Novel

By Ava Reid

“Lady Macbeth is the gothic fantasy retelling of my dreams! Ava Reid stuns once again with their attention to historic detail as they maintain the magic of Macbeth. This book is dreamy, lush, and had me spiraling for days after reading it!”

—Haley Calvin, The Novel Neighbor, Webster Groves, MO

Your Next  Great Read

The Lost Story: A Novel

By Meg Shaffer

“Can you feel nostalgic about a book you just read? Apparently yes, if it reminds you of when you were a child who believed in magic. Like any fairy tale, there is darkness, but only enough to make the light more brilliant.”

—Laura Kendall, Second Flight Books, Lafayette, IN

Your Next  Great Read

Nicked: A Novel

By M. T. Anderson

"A truly immersive, boisterous, playful, and earnest heist story from so far in the past it becomes magical. With a writing style as elusive as the plot twists, a colorful cast of thieves and priests, and a breathless romance, it's not one to miss."

—Bridget Fenner, BookPeople, Austin, TX

Your Next  Great Read

The Truth According to Ember: A Novel

By Danica Nava

"Ember is tired of her dead-end job, of being broke, and never getting ahead as a Chickasaw woman. So, she lies. As these lies pile up, how can Ember be real? Emotional, witty, and tender, this debut Native rom-com is a perfect workplace romance!"

—Coco Zephir, Phoenix Books, Essex Junction, VT

Your Next  Great Read

Five-Star Stranger: A Novel

By Kat Tang

"A completely modern look at the way we live, regarding hurt, protection, and connection. As the protagonist tries to make himself into a blank slate so he can rent himself to strangers, the faded outline of his real self keeps threatening to peek through."

—James Crossley, Leviathan Bookstore, St. Louis, MO

Your Next  Great Read

Catalina: A Novel

By Karla Cornejo Villavicencio

"Catalina is such a delightful book – funny and quick-witted, but also thoughtful and heart-rending. I loved Catalina's smart, singular voice. This is a perfect read for lovers of Lily King's Writers & Lovers, or fans of Sally Rooney's work."

—Shannon Guinn-Collins, Bookworks, Albuquerque, NM

Your Next  Great Read

The Ex Vows

By Jessica Joyce

"A swoony story about two best friends finding their way back to each other after breaking up five years ago. Georgia and Eli must work together for their best friend Adam's wedding and realize they left a lot unsaid. I had butterflies the whole time!"

—Claire McWhorter, River & Hill Books, Rome, GA

Your Next  Great Read

The Horse: A Novel

By Willy Vlautin

"Al Ward is flawed — alcoholism, a never quite good enough country guitarist and song writer. When a blind horse shows up at his isolated shack on a snowy, freezing night, the best of Al comes out. Yes, Al is flawed, but you'll root for him."

—Karen Emmerling, Beach Books, Seaside, OR

Your Next  Great Read

I Was A Teenage Slasher: A Novel

By Stephen Graham Jones

"My heart aches for the slasher? This cannot be right. Tolly, the slasher, tells his bloody, horrific story in a voice so real and raw that you can almost hear him, as though seated right beside you, and feel every detail of his inescapable pain."

—Nancy Sims-West, Raven Book Store, Lawrence, KS

Your Next  Great Read

Burn: A Novel

By Peter Heller

"In the spirit of Station Eleven, there is only one thing humankind understands when it must survive: it cannot be done alone. You read this novel and wonder how such a painful book can be so damn beautiful. Gorgeous writing meets heart-pounding thriller."

—Jessilynn Norcross, McLean & Eakin Booksellers, Petoskey, MI

Your Next  Great Read

The Unmothers: A Novel

By Leslie J. Anderson

"Anderson beautifully blends a small-town mystery with the supernatural (and a little feminist rage) to deliver this cathartic punch of a story. If you loved the what-the-hell-is-going-on energy of classic X-Files, then read this book."

—Jennifer Martin, Tattered Cover Book Store, Denver, CO

Your Next  Great Read

Smothermoss: A Novel

By Alisa Alering

"Beautiful, surreal, and otherworldly, I fully fell into Alering's supernatural mystery. Their use of sound grounds the reader in Sheila and Angie's strange and difficult life on the margins of society in some of the best writing I've seen."

—Amanda Scroggins, Watermark Books & Café, Wichita, KS

Your Next  Great Read

Banal Nightmare: A Novel

By Halle Butler

"Banal Nightmare crackles with humanity. You may hate these feckless — at times ugly — characters, or recognize yourself in them (and still hate them). But it'll thrill you in its fearlessness. Either way, this will leave a mark on you. It blisters."

—Matt Nixon, A Cappella Books, Atlanta, GA

Your Next  Great Read

Mystery Lights: Stories

By Lena Valencia

Charlotte Illes Is Not a Teacher

By Katie Siegel

“Siegel’s humor and heart shine as we follow Charlotte to her new job as a substitute teacher at her old middle school, as she helps her new colleagues solve a mystery. Fan favorites Lucy and Gabe are back to help and their banter remains delightful.”

–Andi Richardson, Fountain Bookstore, Richmond, VA

Your Next  Great Read

Bright Young Women: A Novel

By Jessica Knoll

“We all know the names of serial killers, but not the victims. Jessica Knoll tells their stories with compassion and respect. You’ll be shocked by the multiple miscarriages of justice that cut short the lives of so many bright young women.”

–Susan Kehoe, Browseabout Books, Rehoboth Beach, DE

Your Next  Great Read

The Militia House: A Novel

By John Milas

“The Militia House ensnares the reader in its unsettling atmosphere. The commentary around the military industrial complex and PTSD is subtle, casting a critical eye that never fully dives into polemic. A wild, immersive ride.”

–Wesley Minter, Third Place Books, Lake Forest Park, WA

Your Next  Great Read

The Other Half: A Novel

By Charlotte Vassell

“First in a series about British Detective Camus Beauchamp, this mystery takes us into London’s high society to solve the murder of one of the gentry’s ‘It’ girls. DI Beauchamp is intriguing – I’m looking forward to more of his cases.”

–Camille Kovach, Completely Booked, Murrysville, PA
